8 REASONS WHY PARENTS SHOULD GET INVOLVED

Kids whose parents are involved are more likely to do their homework and attend school more regularly.

Schools with thriving parent groups have a better reputation in the community.

Involvement gives you an inside view on what's happening at

Being in a parent group opens you up to making new friends and connections.

It feels great to volunteer! Especially when kids' smile are one of the rewards.

Kids with involved parents tend to do better in school and score higher on tests.

There's no one-sizefits-all way to be involved-there are plenty of opportunities regardless of how much time you have to give. Parent groups do a lot of great work. It's awesome to be part of something you really know is making a difference.
